"Sue Simons and I worked in NYC at Ground Zero as a team. Over a period of months, I saw her consummate professionalism and unending strength of spirit pull together and support law enforcement officers from NYC and around the country. I watched her help cops who were peer support officers and those who dug through that terrible pile of rubble. She is nothing short of a blessing to us all."

"Susan has had her hands full with me both from my shooting incident in 2003 and from my personal issues. She has the unique ability to allow you to see things you never would without her assistance, yet tells you they were there the entire time. We may argue a lot of the time, but at least you paint the real picture. Thank you for all your help, wisdom and caring."

- Lt. Steve Watkins

"I cannot tell you how much of a life you have given our family back working with Walter, after getting him the help he needed and visiting with him. He has returned to the person he was prior to his incident. Seeing the boys enjoying time with their dad and Gabriel even getting out and doing stuff an 8-year-old should because he doesn't have the fear of leaving his dad at home is great. You have done in 3-1/2 months what one doctor could or would not do in over 2 years. Thanks again for all you have done for Walter and our family."

Testimonials

"Susan Lewis Simons, a Board Certified Expert in Traumatic Stress, is one who exceptionally personifies support for those who protect and serve. Having attended her seminar "Attack on America: A Test of Critical Incident Stress Management," I am convinced her sensitivity, professionalism, and unique abilities to understand the impact of critical incident management, both to first responders and to our families, are truly second to none. Susan's firm but gentle, honest and insightful guidance provides a realistic road map for navigating today's turbulent waters through her professional stress management training."
